

“Garden of the Heart & Soul 2020” Charity Psychological Aid

At the end of the year 2019, a new type of Coronavirus (2019-nCoV) suddenly emerged in Wuhan City and is currently raging all over China.

Our Garden of the Heart & Soul charity program has already launched the “Garden of the Heart & Soul 2020” special volunteer services. We have organized professional counselors from the Oriental Academy of Analytical Psychology (OAAP), Guangdong Association for Analytical Psychology (GAAP), China Society for Analytical Psychology (CSAP), China Society for Sandplay Therapy (CSST), master and PhD students majoring in psychoanalysis of SCNU and CityU. There are approximately more than 300 of them who are currently participating in this time’s psychological aid.

Our team, volunteers of the Garden of the Heart & Soul, participated in the psychological counseling of the Wenchuan Earthquake (2008) and Yushu Earthquake (2010). We have established more than 80 workstations in orphanages in the mainland of China for the last ten years, to support the psychological development of orphans.

Currently our team has prepared and established three “Garden of the Heart & Soul” wechat groups. There are professional volunteer counselors in all three wechat groups providing psychological self-help knowledge and Q&A services. Meanwhile, we provide professional one on one counseling services to people influenced by the current epidemic situation.

Let us work together to face this battle against coronavirus outbreak!
