

*Jungian Psychotherapy:
origin, history and contemporary forms (part II).*

Jung's Trauma Theory and Alchemy.

Joseph Cambray, Ph.D.

About the Lecture

At the end of last year, Dr. Joseph Cambray, former president of the International Society of Analytical Psychology, led us from nineteenth century Europe in five lectures to understand Jung's word association test and trace Jung's entanglement with the psychoanalytic school. Enter under the edifice of analytical psychology, and read the theoretical facets of many early analytical psychologists.

In the second part of the course, Dr. Cambray would like to at Jung's theories as linked to trauma and healing, and perhaps then go to his use of alchemy as metaphor for the process of individuation based on his own self-analysis/healing.
