GENERAL INFORMATION ABOUT TRAINING AS AFFILIATE CANDIDATE THROUGH THE IAAP

In response to the interest and desire expressed by IAAP Group Members (GM) with Training Status to take on the responsibility to work with Affiliate Candidates who belong to a local Developing Group (DG) or a GM without Training Status, the Education Committee of the IAAP has formulated the following requirements for training as Affiliate Candidates through the IAAP in partnership with an IAAP GM.

The aim is to establish a partnership between the IAAP and an interested IAAP GM with Training Status, which has agreed to cooperate with a local DG. This GM will herewith be referred to as The Partnering GM. The partnership will continue until there are enough IAAP members in the local DG to form an IAAP GM with Training Status. The partnership will come into effect after a contract has been signed between the IAAP and the Partnering GM, and, between the Partnering GM and the local DG.

The first step in the development from DG to GM with Training Status will be the formation of a GM without Training Status, which requires a minimum of six IAAP Members. Where an established local GM without Training Status eventually exists, the training of the Affiliate Candidates will continue to be managed by the IAAP and the Partnering GM in cooperation with the local DG and the local GM.

Geographic Requirements to become Affiliate Candidates

Only persons who live in a region of the world or a country where there are no IAAP GMs with Training Status may apply to become Affiliate Candidates and eventually apply to become members of the IAAP.

The Partnering GM

The training of the Affiliate Candidates will be under the responsibility of the Partnering GM. The training programme must meet the minimal requirements of the training as defined in the Affiliate Candidates Handbook. The training modality must be determined between the Partnering GM, the local DG and the IAAP.

The Liaison Person

The LP is jointly appointed by the IAAP and the partnering GM. The LP is responsible for the overview of the training of the Affiliate Candidates and the communication between the Partnering GM, the DG and the IAAP. Functions include:

- To liaise with the Partnering GM, the DG and the IAAP through the Regional Organiser to establish a training programme that responds to the needs of the concerned parties
- To collaborate with the Regional Organizer to arrange screening interviews, intermediate and final exams including collecting and sending annual reports
- To maintain an overview of the training programme to ensure that the needs and requirements of all three parties are considered and respected

Screening interviews and exams, structures and procedures

Screening interviews, intermediate and final exams are the joint responsibility of the partnering GM and the IAAP. To this end one interviewer / examiner will be appointed by the partnering GM and one by the Regional Organizer of the IAAP. The LP will facilitate the process.

Payment for screening interviews, intermediate- and final exams will be made to the IAAP who will take responsibility for paying the examiners.

Requirements to Become an Affiliate Candidate:

All requirements and criteria outlined below are considered the minimum needed for Affiliate Candidates.

Academic Qualifications for Affiliate Candidates

The IAAP requires applicants to become Affiliate Candidates to demonstrate that they meet all legal requirements for the clinical practice of psychotherapy in the country in which they live. Clinical experience and a clinical academic degree at a graduate or post-graduate level are the general rule, although there may be exceptions. The Education Committee, in consultation with the Executive Committee, will have the right to grant exceptions.

Personal Analysis for Affiliate Candidates

It is expected that an applicant will have a minimum of 25 hours of personal face-to-face analysis with an IAAP member before applying for training as Affiliate Candidate. Personal analysis must continue throughout the time needed to fulfill the requirements for application for IAAP membership. A minimum of 3 years comprising at least 240 sessions with an analyst whose training analysis is acceptable to the IAAP is required. Documentary evidence may be requested. It is expected that the analyst will charge local fees. Up to 90 hours of the required hours of analysis can be done via Skype or other means of telecommunications. Every hour of analysis done via Skype or other means of telecommunications will count for one hour of face-to-face analysis.

Clinical Supervision for Affiliate Candidates

A minimum of 100 hours of supervision with one or more IAAP analysts (not those conducting personal analysis) is required. At least 25% and not more than 50% of the supervision must be as group supervision. At least 50 sessions of supervision must be individual. 2 hours of group supervision count for 1 hour of individual supervision. Affiliate Candidates are expected to be in regular group- and individual supervision as long as they are Affiliate Candidates.

Each Affiliate Candidate should request an evaluation report from their individual supervisor at the end of the year. They may also request an evaluation report from the group supervisor at the end of the year if they have presented a case in the group.

It is expected that the supervisor will charge only local fees. Supervision should be conducted in person whenever possible. Supervision can be done via Skype or other means of telecommunications but it is recommended that a proportion of the hours be done in face-to-face meetings, especially at the beginning of the supervision. It is expected that all analytical work with patients carried out by Affiliate Candidates will be face-to-face and telecommunications such as Skype should only be used under exceptional circumstances.

Personal Development for Affiliate Candidates

Eventual certification for an Affiliate Candidate as an IAAP Member also depends upon qualities of personal development, such as psychological maturity, individuation, awareness of personal strengths and weaknesses, and an ability to relate to the unconscious symbolically, as well as clinical competence.

The character and personality of applicants to become Affiliate Candidates must be of such quality as to make them fitting members of the IAAP and to ensure that they will be able to represent Analytical Psychology adequately in areas where there are no existing Group Members. Consequently these applicants are held to ethical and psychological standards equally high to those expected of all other members of the IAAP.

Obligations

No public statement of mis-representation about the Affiliate Candidate status, such as “Analysts” or “Analysts in Training” is acceptable. Affiliate Candidates cannot make arrangements with their clients about lowering their fees or other similar arrangements in exchange for their agreement to be presented as a case under supervision.

Procedures to Pursue Training as Affiliate Candidate to become a Member of the IAAP:

Initial Steps

When the applicant is ready to proceed with the application, he or she will inform the DG, with a copy to the LP and the Regional Organizer expressing their wish to pursue Affiliate Candidate training. Please see the requirements and the procedures on pgs. 10 - 18

Yearly Evaluation forms

Every year each Affiliate Candidate is required to submit an Affiliate Candidate’s information form and a self-evaluation form and to ask their supervisor to complete the consultation evaluation form. Admission to the Intermediate Examination and to the Final Examination will be dependent on the regular yearly completion of these forms. Please see the section ‘Affiliate Candidate’s Training Information Forms’ on pgs. 19 – 23.

Suspension of an Affiliate Candidate

If an Affiliate Candidate does not fulfill the obligations as described in this handbook the Executive Committee may decide, in consultation with the partnering GM, to suspend the Affiliate Candidate. See page 24.

The suspension may be withdrawn upon application.

Intermediate Examination

An intermediate examination (described on page 26) will be required. Please see the requirements and the procedures on pgs. 25 – 26.

Final Examination, a Clinical Case Presentation

When Affiliate Candidates have successfully completed all of the requirements, they may request to take their Final Examination.

Please see the requirements and the procedures on pgs. 27 – 29.

Acceptance into the IAAP

The Executive Committee of the IAAP recommends applicants for Individual Member status in a written report to the Meetings of Delegates, which take place every three years at the Congresses of the IAAP.

The President of the IAAP will be prepared to furnish details about applicants if they are requested at the Meeting of Delegates. A majority vote of two-thirds of the Delegates is required for acceptance into the IAAP.

The decision of the Delegates shall be final and no reasons need be given to applicants for the decision.

ANNUAL DUES TO THE IAAP:

Annual Dues for Developing Groups:

A Developing Group is required to pay dues to the IAAP which are fixed at 250 CHF per year no later than June 30th. The Developing Group has however the possibility of applying for a reduction in dues either of band B. 200 CHF or Band C 125 CHF.

In order to qualify for a reduction and in order to facilitate the decision about which band to grant, the President of the Developing Group is required to provide the Regional Organizer with the relevant information about the present financial situation of the members. Such information may include the average salary for psychologists or doctors, the average fee for psychotherapy sessions and the general economic situation of the region or country of the Developing Group. The Regional Organizer will make a recommendation to the Finance Officer who, in consultation with the Co-Chairs, will make a final decision about the reduction and subsequently inform IAAP Secretary, Selma Gubser about the decision.

Payment can be made in one of two ways:

1) By credit card payment. In this case, applicants will need to contact Selma Gubser, IAAP Secretary, and send her their credit card number, name on the card, expiry date, and security number. They should also state clearly the reason for the payment, e.g. a screening interview. Selma Gubser can be contacted at the following email address:

iaap@swissonline.ch

2) Payments by bank transfer. The following is the information required to make payment by bank transfer of funds:

Bank address: UBS AG
Postfach
8098 Zürich
Swift Code : UBSWCHZH80A

In addition, affiliate candidates will be required to pay an annual fee for the training. This fee is to be arranged between the local DG and the Partnering GM.

THE APPLICATION PROCESS FOR A SCREENING INTERVIEW:

In order to apply for a screening interview, applicants must provide the following:

- A completed and signed application form indicating that they have read the IAAP Code of Ethics and IAAP Statement of Non-discrimination and agree to abide by it. This signed copy must be sent to the LP and the RO, by email through a scanned document.
Please note that applicants must fill in the four lines pertaining to the Code of Ethics and Statement of Non-discrimination.
- A Curriculum Vitae that includes information about academic background, professional training, and clinical experience as a psychotherapist;
- An autobiographical statement of 10 pages in length, double spaced, where applicants share their understanding of current patterns in their life and their relevance to their early life and family. It is also important to include reasons for wanting to become a Jungian analyst. This should include analytical insights and reflections. This autobiographical statement must be in English although the Affiliate Candidate can additionally send it in their own language if so wished.
- Confirmation of the number of hours of personal analysis. Applicants can request this from their analyst and have them email this to the LP and Regional Organizer directly. Please note that a minimum of 25 hours of face to face analysis is required before a screening interview can be given.
- Confirmation of the number of hours of supervision as well as a completed Consultation Evaluation Form filled out by each supervisor. Applicants can request this from their supervisor(s) and have them email this to the Co-Chairs of the Education Committee directly. Please note that supervision before the application for a screening interview is not mandatory.

- A list of any previous applications for analytic training, including the name of the Group Members, the dates of the applications, and the outcomes.
- Payment of a screening interview fee. The regular screening interview fee is 250 CHF. Reduction in the fee may be granted in exceptional circumstances. The application form for a reduction in the fee should be sent to the LP and the Regional Organizer by email.

Further documentation may be required.

After having approved the formal content of the application, the Regional Organizer will in cooperation with the LP contact the applicant to schedule a screening interview. The screening interview will be given by one person from the IAAP and one person from the partnering GM.

The LP will be available to give academic guidance until all requirements are completed. The screening interview will take place in a neutral location whenever possible. An interview fee paid to the IAAP will be required.

Once the interviewers have recommended the applicant be accepted, they will inform the LP, the Regional Organizer and the DG. Results of all screening interviews must be ratified by the Executive Committee of the IAAP at its annual meeting. Only after the Executive Committee has ratified the result of the screening interview is the applicant formally accepted into the Affiliate Candidates' Training Program. The applicant can, however, begin training after the recommendation of the interviewers and after consultation with the DG.

APPLICATION FORM FOR REDUCTION OF FEES

In order to ensure the maximum fairness and transparency when granting any requests for reductions in the IAAP fees for the screening interviews, the intermediate and final examinations, a band structure for fee reduction is established. In order to qualify for a reduction and in order to facilitate the decision about which band to grant, the applicant is required to provide the LP and Regional Organizer with the relevant information about his or her present financial situation. Such information may include the average salary for psychologists or doctors, the average fee for psychotherapy sessions and the general economic situation of the region or country of the applicant. Any other valid motivation such as difficulties to earn because the candidate is participating in an education program abroad, may be included. The band structure is given below and the applicant should state which band he or she wishes to apply for. Based on the justification for the request the Regional Organizer must approve the request and then send it to the Finance Officer with a copy to the Co-Chairs and to IAAP Secretary, Selma Gubser.

CODE OF ETHICS FOR IAAP INDIVIDUAL MEMBERS

This Code governs all Individual Members (members not belonging to a Group Member Society) of the International Association for Analytical Psychology. All Individual Members of the IAAP who are not subject to the Ethics Codes of Group Member of the IAAP should be cognizant and acquaint themselves with the IAAP Code. An analyst should conduct himself/herself according to the highest ethical standards in his/her work and shall hold the interest of his/her patient to be paramount. This responsibility is central to being an analyst.

Breach of any of these ethical rules of the IAAP constitutes serious misconduct. Non-adherence to the Ethical Code by Individual Members may result in suspension or expulsion from any form of individual or group membership in the IAAP.

I. Analyst-Patient Relationships

Responsibilities to Patients:

An analyst shall respect the integrity of his/her patient under any circumstance, unless evident significant risks to the patient demand some intervention contrary to the patient's approval.

A) At the start of the treatment the analyst shall state clearly to the patient the terms and conditions of the treatment, e.g. times, frequency of sessions, and fee arrangements. The analyst shall ensure that these terms and conditions are maintained.

B) Financial dealings shall be restricted to matters concerning professional fees.

C) During treatment, restraint should be exercised with regard to social contacts with a patient. After treatment one should also keep in mind the possible continuation of transference feelings and use discretion in any social contacts. Social contact with a patient's relatives should be approached with great caution and should occur only with the knowledge and consent of the patient. Exceptions may be made in certain circumstances, such as when a patient is a danger to himself/herself or others, in the treatment of children, or when the agreed upon treatment plan includes appointments with family or others for therapeutic or counseling purposes.

D) Confidentiality and the preservation of a patient's anonymity are of primary importance. Particular care must be taken in the publication of clinical material and the presentation of clinical material at clinical seminars. If a patient requests that his/her material should not be published or presented, this shall be respected. Discretion should also be exercised when professional consultation is utilized.

Exceptions may have to be made when a lawsuit is threatened or when the law requires a breach of confidentiality, as in the case of child abuse, requirement to warn of danger to others, by court order, etc.

E) An analyst should not enter into a sexual relationship with any patient nor take any sort of personal advantages that transgress the analytical boundaries (or frame). Terminating a therapeutic relationship in order to have a sexual relationship is also unethical.

F) An analyst should not use physical violence against a patient. The use of physical constraint may be made when the patient is physically dangerous and has to be restrained for the safety of the patient, analyst or others.

General Personal Responsibilities:

- G) An analyst shall not claim to possess qualifications which he or she does not possess.
- H) An analyst shall give proper credit and reference to the contributions and publications of other colleagues and shall not plagiarize the work of others.
- I) An analyst shall not continue to practice when seriously or persistently impaired (1) by the use of alcohol or other substances, or (2) by a physical or psychological illness or any severe stress that would impair one's ability to practice and exercise adequate skill and judgment.
- J) If an analyst is convicted of a criminal offence, or has been found to have engaged in unethical professional behavior by a professional body or licensing agency in the state or country in which he/she resides, it is his/her duty to inform the President of the IAAP of the legal, professional or licensing decision, together with the relevant facts.

II. Analyst/Supervisee or Control Analyst/Control Analystsand Relationships

Responsibilities to Supervisees or Control Analysts:

The supervisor or control analyst shall respect the particular relationship that is established in training with a supervisee or control analyst. The supervisor or control analyst shall not take advantage of his/her greater authority. Thus, a supervisor or control analyst shall not become sexually involved with, exploit, or take advantage in any way of someone he/she is to evaluate, grade, promote, or recommend for promotion. In addition, caution should be exercised after the teaching/supervisory relationship is over because of ongoing unresolved transference and projection issues which may have arisen in the course of training.

III. Responsibility in Reporting to and Appearing Before the Ethics Committee

- A) Self-reporting. It is the responsibility of an IAAP Individual Member to seek help and report his/her unprofessional conduct to the IAAP Ethics Committee. Self-reporting will neither relieve the member of responsibility for his /her misconduct nor preclude disciplinary action before the IAAP Ethics Committee.
- B) Responsibility in Addressing Unprofessional Conduct of a Colleague: Whenever an IAAP analyst has evidence of a colleague's misconduct it is his/her responsibility to inform the IAAP Ethics Committee, except in cases where patient confidentiality must be maintained. When a member of the IAAP is made aware of the unethical behavior of a colleague, he/she should first talk with the colleague/ Affiliate Candidate and try to stop the behavior in question, and if necessary encourage consultation or further personal analysis/treatment. If the concerned member cannot do this directly and/or needs to maintain confidentiality, he/she may contact the Chairperson of the IAAP Ethics Committee.
- C) Responsibility to Appear Before the IAAP Ethics Committee: When an Individual Member analyst is called on to respond to a complaint or a grievance in order to clarify a possible breach of ethics, refusal to meet with the IAAP Ethics Committee and cooperate in good faith could itself be the basis for a separate charge of unethical or unprofessional behavior. This non-compliance could be grounds for Committee action, including a recommendation of suspension or expulsion from any form of individual or group membership in the IAAP.

The first draft of the Ethics Code for the IAAP, with certain additions and revisions, has been mainly based on Ethics Codes, Guidelines and Procedures which have been adopted by the Society of Analytical Psychology -- London (February 1991), the C.G. Jung Institute of San Francisco (April 1991), and the New York Association for Analytical Psychology (revised November 1983 and November 1986).

Eli B. Weisstub, M.D., FRCPC
July 1992

The former second section (Composition and Functions of the Ethics Committee) of this document has been removed following the approval by the IAAP Delegates on August 22, 2001 of the above Amendment to the IAAP Constitution which brought into being a new standing Ethics Committee.

Revised in April 2005 by Eli B. Weisstub, Liliana L. Wahba, Richard Willetts and the Ethics Committee of the IAAP.

Revised by the Ethics Committee in 2012 and 2013. Approved by the Delegates in August of 2013.

ETHICS COMPLAINTS AGAINST AFFILIATE CANDIDATES

The Affiliate Candidate has by his or her signature accepted to follow the Code of Ethics for Individual Members of the IAAP. Affiliate Candidates, however, are not members of the IAAP and they are therefore not mentioned in the IAAP Constitution.

From this follows that Affiliate Candidates are not mentioned in the IAAP Code of Ethics and that the Ethics Committee of the IAAP is not responsible for any ethical complaint against an Affiliate Candidate.

Affiliate Candidate training is under the oversight of the IAAP Executive Committee. The IAAP Executive Committee is therefore responsible for ethical questions or complaints regarding Affiliate Candidates. For this reason the Executive Committee has approved a procedure to process cases of an ethical complaint against an Affiliate Candidate.

Procedure in Case of an Ethical Complaint Against an Affiliate Candidate.

1. All complaints shall be made to the Local DG who will immediately forward the complaint to the Regional Organizer, the LP, the Co-chairs of the Education Committee, and the Officers. The subsequent procedure is designed to give both the complainant and the person complained against an opportunity to substantiate their positions.
2. The Local DG must try to resolve the problem on its own according to its own ethical procedures, and only when this is not possible will the procedure described below come into action.
 3. If the Local DG has not been able to resolve the problem, when appropriate and with the continuing concurrence of the parties the Officers may offer, or designate an Officer to facilitate communication between the parties for the purpose of informally resolving the matter.
4. The Officer will first determine that the complaint, if proven to be true, would represent a violation of the IAAP Ethics Code and could properly be adjudicated by the Executive Committee according to the terms of these Responsibilities and Procedures.
5. Upon receipt of a complaint against an Affiliate Candidate, the Officers shall instruct the complainant to put his/her complaint in writing and to provide written permission that the person complained against may be informed of the complaint made against him/her. In addition, if an activity, which would otherwise be confidential, is to be investigated, the complainant must give written permission for the defendant to provide to the Officers any necessary information, including but not limited to analytic notes, supervisory notes, personal correspondence and similar material, in order to respond to the complaint.
4. Upon receipt of a complaint the Officers shall inform the Affiliate Candidate in writing about the complaint, enclosing a copy of it, and require a response to the charges within a fixed period of time (no longer than 60 days).

5. The Officers will appoint an Investigation Committee composed of three persons of whom at least one should be an Officer and one a member of the Executive Committee. The appointment of members must be approved by the President of the IAAP. The Investigation Committee will investigate and make recommendations to the IAAP Executive Committee as a whole. The IAAP Executive Committee will make the final determination in the case. In special cases the IAAP Executive Committee can decide to involve the Chair of the Ethics Committee.
6. The Investigation Committee will make the determination on the basis of the written submissions of the parties. In unusual circumstances, one or more members of the Investigation Committee may be made available to meet face-to-face with the parties either singularly or jointly, as it may deem appropriate. Due to the sensitive nature of the material to be discussed at these meetings, they will remain private and may be attended only by the parties to the complaint and those witnesses that the Investigation Committee determines could offer relevant information. Solicitors or anyone acting in a legal capacity may not represent parties before the Investigation Committee. Information gathered in the course of an investigation will not be communicated to others except as provided for in these procedures. If the Investigation Committee makes a recommendation for suspension or expulsion under C. 7.f., below, special care shall be taken to protect the identity of the complainant. The conduct of any meeting or meetings shall be at the discretion of the Investigation Committee. Decisions by both the Investigation Committee and the IAAP Executive Committee may be reached through face-to-face meetings or by other means of communication (post, telephone, fax, or Internet).
7. In the case of a complaint against an Affiliate Candidate, if the Investigation Committee finds that the Affiliate Candidate has committed a breach of the Code of Ethics, it may:
 - a. recommend an apology to the complainant;
 - b. give a written warning outlining the potential ethical issues a particular action may involve;
 - c. give a written reprimand censuring the Affiliate Candidate for any unethical violation he/she has taken;
 - d. require the Affiliate Candidate, in addition to the supervision already going on, to be supervised by an approved senior colleague, the period and frequency of the supervision to be approved by the IAAP Executive Committee;
 - e. recommend to the Affiliate Candidate, to seek independent medical and/or psychological examination;
 - f. recommend to the IAAP Executive Committee suspension or expulsion from the Affiliate Candidate training;
 - g. decide on the release of information concerning the IAAP Executive Committee's final determination.
10. An Affiliate Candidate's refusal to cooperate with these procedures and/or recommendations will constitute a violation of the IAAP Ethics Guidelines and Standards.

11. Both the person complained against and the complainant shall be notified in writing as to the IAAP Executive Committee's final determination and action on a complaint as soon as possible after the IAAP Executive Committee's decision. Notification to others under C.7.g. can take place only after 45 days following notice to the parties of the IAAP Executive Committee's final determination or after the completion of the appeal process, whichever is later.
12. The IAAP Executive Committee will also decide on the degree to which the findings may be disseminated more generally. Any action taken to suspend or expel an Affiliate Candidate for ethical reasons shall be reported to the Developing Group or local GM of which the sanctioned Affiliate Candidate is a member, but only if such reporting can be, and is, done in accordance with applicable law.
11. The official documents pertaining to an ethical complaint against an Affiliate Candidate will be in English, and while a translation into the local language may be provided, the English version shall be binding.

D. Appeals:

1. Both the complainant and the person complained against will be given notice of the right to appeal the IAAP Executive Committee's final determination, including the right to appeal a recommendation to expel a Affiliate Candidate.
2. Expelled or suspended Affiliate Candidates shall be denied all Affiliate Candidates' privileges pending appeal. All other penalties shall be suspended pending appeal.
3. The party wishing to appeal must file notice with the President of the IAAP within 45 days of the mailing of the notice of action taken. He or she will be asked to show good cause and to submit any information which would support the appeal.
4. Grounds for overturning the decisions of the IAAP Executive Committee include procedural errors or new evidence, which brings into question the substantive validity of the IAAP Executive Committee's final determination. Only one appeal will be permitted.
5. The President will appoint a committee to hear the appeal. The Appeals Committee shall be composed of three senior IAAP members, preferably from among the Past Presidents or past Ethics Committee Chairpersons. The Appeals Committee shall decide on its own procedures, but normally it will rely on the written submission of the individual making the appeal and the records of the Investigation Committee and the IAAP Executive Committee. It will consider the grounds for the appeal, and if they are found to be valid it will send the case back to the IAAP Executive Committee for reconsideration, unless the Appeals Committee determines that the IAAP Executive Committee would be unable to fairly decide the case, in which case it may make recommendations of its own.
6. In the event that the recommendations of the Appeals Committee contradict those of the IAAP Executive Committee, both Committees' findings will be presented to the Ethics Committee. A two-thirds majority of the Ethics Committee shall be required to rescind or revise the IAAP Executive Committee's final recommendation.

IAAP STATEMENT OF NON DISCRIMINATION:

The IAAP statement of non-discrimination is contained in Article 2 of the IAAP Constitution. Please read this carefully before indicating on the application form that you agree to abide by this statement if you are accepted as an IAAP Affiliate Candidate.

Art. 2

Aims of the Association

The Association is an international organization of those engaged in the practice of Analytical Psychology. Its aims are:

1. To promote the study of Analytical Psychology;
2. To disseminate knowledge of Analytical Psychology;
3. To require the maintenance of high standards of training, practice, and ethical conduct;
4. To hold Congresses.

The Association shall pursue these aims with due regard to the autonomous status and professional interests of its component groups and individual members.

Constituent Societies of the IAAP are to follow a policy of non-discrimination on the basis of race, religion, ethnic origin, gender, and sexual orientation. This includes activities of IAAP professional groups, such as membership in a professional society, training programs, and events for the public at large, sponsored by the various Societies.

INTERMEDIATE EXAM:

The intermediate exam is a mid-point exam meant to evaluate the Affiliate Candidates' grasp of basic Jungian principles and their ability to begin to apply and understand them in the work with clients. This exam can usually be taken after the Affiliate Candidate has had about 100 hours of personal analysis and 50 hours of supervision. When an Affiliate Candidate feels ready to take this examination, he/she should contact the LP and submit an update on his/her hours of analysis and supervision with IAAP members, Consultation Evaluation Forms from supervisors as to the state of his/her readiness. In preparation for the exam, the Affiliate Candidate is asked to write a paper of around 5,000 words on a Jungian concept of their choice showing clinical application of this concept. The written paper must be submitted to the LP and the Regional Organizer no later than one month before the scheduled exam. The Regional Organizer will communicate this information to the Co-Chairs

The intermediate exam is an oral one of an hour to an hour and an half based on the written paper but not limited to the paper only. Examiners are encouraged to explore and evaluate the Affiliate Candidate's knowledge and grasp of basic Jungian principles and need not focus exclusively on the concept presented in the written paper.

The intermediate exam will be given by two IAAP analysts. One of the analysts must be from the IAAP and one from the partnering GM. The following are areas the examiners may wish to keep in mind during the intermediate exam:

The History and Development of Analytical Psychology

The Practice of Jungian Analysis:

Frame issues such as setting fees, frequency of sessions, personal disclosures, ethics, i.e., overall case management.

Transference/countertransference theory and management.

Phases of analysis.

Appropriate capacities for working imaginatively, working with images and symbols and other techniques.

Timing of comments and other interventions.

Maintenance of an analytic and ethical attitude to work with patients/clients.

Jungian Understanding of Personality and Psychopathology:

Structure and dynamics of the psyche

Psychological types.

Complex theory/association experiment.

Psychopathology: diagnosis, comparative theories of neurosis, psychosis,

Personality disorders, etc, defence mechanisms, symptomatology,

Regression, adaptation, individuation.

Techniques for Activation and Interpretation of Unconscious Material:

Dream theory and interpretation

Active imagination/transcendent function

Picture interpretation

Amplification

Reductive, dynamic, synthetic interpretation

Intermediate Exam Fee:

There is a fee of 500 CHF for the intermediate exam. Requests for a reduction in this fee will be considered on submission to the LP and the Regional Organizer of the appropriate form which is given on pg.10 under payment of screening interview.

Method of Payment:

Payment can be made in one of two ways:

1) By credit card payment. In this case, Affiliate Candidate will need to contact Selma Gubser, IAAP Secretary, and send her their credit card number, name on the card, expiry date, and security number. Affiliate Candidates should also state clearly the reason for the payment, e.g. intermediate exam. Selma Gubser can be contacted at the following email address:

2) Payment by bank transfer. The following is the information required to make payment by bank transfer of funds:

Intermediate Exam Procedure:

The examiners will meet for 10 - 15 minutes before the exam to discuss their overall impressions of the paper and the questions or areas they would like to focus on during the exam. The Affiliate Candidate is then invited into the room for the exam (an hour to an hour and a half). When the examiners feel they have arrived at an appropriate moment to complete the exam, the Affiliate Candidate is asked to leave the room and wait while the examiners share their impressions and arrive at a decision of pass or fail. The Affiliate Candidate is invited back into the room and is given the result as well as feedback on the exam and areas of strength and weakness. Finally, the examiners write a report on the exam that is then sent, with a copy to the Local DG, to the LP and the Regional Organizer who will forward it to the Co-Chairs of the Education Committee.

The exam results will be presented to the members of the Executive Committee for ratification at the next scheduled meeting as part of the Ed.Com. Report.

FINAL EXAM

Affiliate Candidates are eligible to take the final exam when they have completed a minimum of 240 hours of personal analysis with an IAAP analyst and 100 hours of supervision with an IAAP analyst. Supervision Evaluation Reports submitted by the supervisors must support the Affiliate Candidate's request to take the final exam.

In preparation for the final exam, the Affiliate Candidate must submit a case report of minimum 15,000 and maximum 20,000 words based on an analytic case which has been under supervision with an IAAP analyst for at least two years. It is important to note that this case report is meant to show the Affiliate Candidate's grasp and understanding of the analytic process as it has evolved over time. It is not meant to be an exercise in creativity. The Affiliate Candidate is expected to apply theory to practice and to show their integration of the principles of Jungian psychology in their clinical work. The written case report will be submitted to the Regional Organizer who will forward it to the Co-Chairs of the Education Committee with a copy to the LP and the Local Group no later than one month before the scheduled exam.

The final exam is an oral exam which lasts about two hours and will be given by two senior IAAP analysts. One of the analysts must be from the IAAP and one from the partnering GM.

The following is a suggested outline for the case report:

- A. First Session. This portion of the report should include initial clinical impressions of the patient, the source of the referral, the preliminary diagnosis and evaluation of the patient's psychological state, and any other pertinent clinical information from the initial session. Approximate length: 1-2 pages.
- B. Psychological history. This section of the report should include the patient's life history up to the point of first contact, with special reference to family of origin, early childhood experiences, important psychological traumas, psychosocial development, major crises, vocational and relational problems, medical issues, and previous psychotherapy. Approximate length: 12-15 pages.
- C. Analytical formulation and diagnostic reflections of the case. This section should include a structural description, using the terminology and concepts of analytical psychology, of the patient's psyche at the point of entry into analysis. Major complexes, ego development, persona and shadow issues, psychological type, ego-self axis are relevant points of discussion. Reflections about diagnosis by DSM or ICD should be included. Approximate length: around 2,000 words Diagnosis
- D. The analytical process and relationship. This section should include all the most important themes of the analysis itself. Of special importance are major dreams during analysis and interpretation of these dreams, transference and counter-transference dynamics, analysis of complexes, individuation movements, symbols and archetypal themes. Approximate length: 23-26.
- E. Discussion and overall impressions: In this section, the Affiliate Candidate should give a description of their overall impression and understanding of the work done and of what was accomplished. Approximate length: (2 – 4 pages).
- F. Termination or prognosis. If the case has concluded, this section should offer an account of the termination phase of analysis. If it has not yet concluded, it should provide a prognosis for future work. Approximate length: 2-5 pages.

Final Exam Fee:

The fee for the final exam is 1000 CHF. Requests to the LP and the Regional Organizer for a reduction in the final exam fee will be considered on submission of the application form for reduction of fees, given on pg. xx. Payment of the final exam fee must be received before the exam can be taken. In exceptional circumstances, the Affiliate Candidate may pay directly to the examiner. In this case the Affiliate Candidate should collect all the fees, write down all the relevant information and give all this to the examiner in person.

Method of Payment:

Payment can be made in one of two ways:

The examiners will meet for 10 - 15 minutes before the exam to discuss their overall impressions of the paper and the questions or areas they would like to focus on during the exam. The Affiliate Candidate is then invited into the room for the exam (an hour to an hour and a half). The Affiliate Candidate is invited back into the room and is given the result as well as feedback on the exam and areas of strength and weakness. Finally, the examiners write a report on the exam that is then sent, with a copy to the Local DG, to the LP and the Regional Organizer who will forward it to the Co-Chairs of the Education Committee. The written report of the exam can be sent to the Affiliate Candidate.

The analysts giving the Final Examination have the authority to determine whether the applicant is ready to be recommended to the Executive Committee for Membership of the IAAP.

If an Affiliate Candidate is successful in this examination and provided that all other documents are seen to be in order, the examining analysts will inform the Affiliate Candidate of their decision and will communicate their decision to the Regional Organizer, the LP and the Co-Chairs. The Executive Committee, at its next meeting, will act on the recommendation and will decide whether to recommend the applicant for Membership in the IAAP. (See below and at page 30) If the work is not complete or the performance in the examination is unsatisfactory, the examining analysts will determine what additional work is needed. He/she is required to re-read the IAAP Code of Ethics for Individual Membership and reaffirm his/her willingness to abide by this Code and the jurisdiction of the IAAP's Ethics Committee so long as he/she remains an Individual Member.

After successful completion of the final exam and ratification of the results by the Executive Committee, the Affiliate Candidate will become a Provisional Member of the IAAP. He/she is required to re-read the IAAP Code of Ethics for Individual Membership and reaffirm his/her willingness to abide by this Code and the jurisdiction of the IAAP's Ethics Committee so long as he/she remains an Individual Member.

In case the applicant wants membership of Partnering GM or of a possible local GM, this can happen after the approval of the Executive Committee of the IAAP and according to the application rules of this GM. In case the applicant wants Individual Member status, the Executive Committee of the IAAP will give its recommendation in a written report to the Meetings of Delegates, which take place every three years at the Congresses of the IAAP. At the next international IAAP Congress, the Delegates will be asked to vote to accept Provisional Members into the IAAP. Only then can the Affiliate Candidates who have successfully completed the final exam and the Provisional Members become Individual Members of the IAAP.

PROVISIONAL MEMBERSHIP STATUS

Steps in the process of becoming an accredited Individual Member of the IAAP after successful completion of the final exam:

- When an IAAP Affiliate Candidate has successfully completed the final exam, the Affiliate Candidate shall be officially recognized as a Provisional Member of the IAAP when ratified by the Executive Committee at its next meeting.
- At the next Delegates Meeting, which takes place at the International Congress every three years, the IAAP Delegates vote to accept into membership the Provisional Members and Affiliate Candidates who have completed the final exam. Only then is one officially an Individual Member of the IAAP.

Rights and Responsibilities of Provisional Members:

- Provisional Members must abide by the Code of Ethics of the IAAP
- Provisional Members do not pay IAAP dues
- Provisional Members are not listed on the IAAP Analyst Database on the website.
- Hours of analysis for the patients of Provisional Members after the successful completion of the final exam and after the ratification by the Executive Committee at its next meeting, will be recognized retroactively from the final exam, but only after a Provisional Member has been officially voted into IAAP membership by the Delegates at the Delegates Meeting of the International Congress.

CONTINUING PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

Professional development does not stop with completion of Affiliate Candidate Training. It is expected that all members of the IAAP, including Individual Members, will continue to pursue their professional development throughout their professional career.

Guidelines for Individual Members of the IAAP who would like to become supervisors:

The IAAP recommends that five years after completion of training as Jungian analysts, all analysts be allowed to provide supervision to Affiliate Candidates.

The IAAP supports the organisation of supervision courses for the Individual Members.

These supervision courses are open to all Individual Members who have experience as analysts and have started or who would like to begin to work as supervisors.

Upon completion of a supervision course, Individual Members who want to offer supervision earlier, can do it after three years. Participants of the supervision course will not be formally evaluated but will be given feedback by the supervisors.

All participants will be provided with a confirmation of attendance at the end of the course.

The IAAP recommends that all Individual Members follow a supervision course as part of their continuing professional development post certification.
