

1-year certificate course for practising clinicians September 2023-July 2024

Certificate in Clinical Practice from a Jungian Perspective

We are offering this course at a special rate to clinicians who practice in countries with new or developing Jungian organisations recognised by the IAAP, who wish to deepen their clinical understanding and are interested in the Jungian approach practised at the Society of Analytical Psychology (SAP), London. Our invitation is also open to routers with sufficient clinical experience (at least 12 clinical hours per week).

We have brought together some of the SAP's most experienced practitioners and thinkers to deliver the course. The course takes place over 10 Saturdays and includes 30 hours of presentations and supervision masterclasses.

Course Format:

10.00 – 13.30 (UK time) with a 30-minute break.

During the masterclass the presenter will work in front of the group with a participant on the case they present. Up to two cases can be supervised during each masterclass, followed by a discussion. The participants will be asked to select clinical material that resonates with the theme of each session and to submit their requests ahead of the session.

Course Meetings: 10 Saturday meetings over 3 terms, September 2023 – July 2024

Course Convenor: Dr Lara Lagutina

Venue: Zoom

Fee: £300 or 3 termly payments of £110

Please contact Gita Khalatbari gita@thesap.org.uk or +44207435 7696 for further information and to submit the application form.

Programme, 2023 – 2024

16/09/23	Engaging with the Unconscious from personal, cultural and collective perspectives.	Malcolm Rushton
14/10/23	The analytic attitude.	Warren Colman
18/11/23	The therapeutic relationship: Jung and beyond.	Jan Wiener
20/01/24	Dreaming mind, emergence of the symbolic in the consulting room.	Susanna Wright
17/02/24	Unconscious communication, synchronicity and the unrepressed unconscious.	Martin Schmidt
23/03/24	Somatic and psychoid dimensions in clinical practice.	Lara Lagutina
20/04/24	Early relational trauma and implications for the clinical approach to patients.	Jay Barlow
18/05/24	Working with regression and early states of mind.	Vernon Yorke
15/06/24	The erotic and the eroticised transference in clinical practice.	Joy Schaverien
20/07/24	Working with otherness, diversity and cultural complexes.	David Hewison

The Course Leaders

Jay Barlow is the Director of Training at the SAP and a Training Analyst. He has an MA in Jungian and Post-Jungian Studies and has worked as a psychoanalytic psychotherapist in the NHS. He has a private practice in Clapham, and supervises developing analytic groups in Eastern Europe.

Warren Colman is a Training and Supervising Analyst of the Society of Analytical Psychology. He is a member of the Editorial Board and former UK Editor-in-Chief of the Journal of Analytical Psychology. He teaches, lectures and supervises internationally, especially in Eastern Europe and has published extensively on a range of topics including sexuality, the self, the therapeutic process and symbolic imagination.

Dr David Hewison is a Training Analyst of the Society of Analytical Psychology and a Consultant Couple Psychoanalytic Psychotherapist at Tavistock Relationships, where he has been a trainer, supervisor, and Head of Research and Ethics for many years. He has a long-standing interest in difference and cross-cultural relationships, as well as in links across analytic theories and research, and in the understanding of imagination and creativity. He publishes and lectures internationally.

Dr Lara Lagutina is a Training Analyst of the SAP and a Clinical Psychologist, with a specialist training in working with trauma and a particular interest in early relational trauma. She is on the editorial board of the Journal of Analytical Psychology and is Programme Director for the Analytic Training at the SAP. She works in full time private practice in London.

Malcolm Rushton is a training analyst of the SAP and works full time as an analyst in private practice. He has an interest in antiquities from various cultures as well as symbolism and shamanism in ancient art, this is expressed in his wide-ranging collection. His current exploration is of the presentation of extreme psychological states in television drama.

Professor Joy Schaverien Dr Joy Schaverien is a Training Analyst of the Society of Analytical Psychology and an art psychotherapist. Formerly a member of the editorial board of the Journal of Analytical Psychology, she lectures internationally and has published extensively on art and psychoanalysis, Boarding School Syndrome and topics related to the erotic transference. Her books on this theme include Desire and the Female Therapist (1994), Gender Countertransference and the Erotic Transference (edited 2007), and most recently a new edition of The Dying Patient in Psychotherapy: Erotic Transference and Boarding School Syndrome (2020) all published by Routledge.

Martin Schmidt, MBPsS, is a Jungian Training Analyst of the Society of Analytical Psychology. He has a private practice in London. He has worked as a psychologist and psychotherapist in psychiatric rehabilitation for over 20 years with patients suffering from psychosis and personality disorders. From 2016-2019 he was the Honorary Secretary of the International Association for Analytical Psychology (IAAP) and its Regional Organizer for Central Europe.

He teaches and supervises widely both in the UK and abroad. His paper 'Psychic Skin: psychotic defences, borderline process and delusions' (JAP, Feb 2012, Vol 57, no 1) won the Fordham prize for best clinical paper in 2012 and was nominated for the Gradiva award by the National Association for the Advancement of Psychoanalysis in New York in 2013.

Jan Wiener was until recently Director of Training at the SAP. Jan is a Supervising Analysts for the SAP and she teaches and supervises regularly within the UK and in different countries including Russia, Romania, Bulgaria, Serbia and the Czech Republic. She is the author of a number of papers and chapters on subjects such as training, ethics and supervision and also four books. The most recent, edited with Catherine Crowther, is called 'From Tradition to Innovation: Jungian Analysts working in Different Cultural Settings' (2015).

Susanna Wright is a former co-Editor in Chief of the Journal of Analytical Psychology. She works mainly in private practice in North London and Kendal, Cumbria. She is a Supervising and Training Analyst for the SAP and BJAA. She has an MA in the psychodynamics of organisations, has worked in organisational consultancy and as a supervisor and analyst of routers for IAAP in St Petersburg. She teaches and supervises internationally.

Vernon Yorke is a Training and Supervising analyst of the SAP. He teaches and supervises for the SAP and for WPF Therapy and works in private practice. He has written a chapter called 'Bion's 'Vertex' as a Supervisory Object' in Supervision and the Analytic Attitude (Whurr 2005).