Special announcement for Jungian analysts and members of the IAAP.

Don't Miss Out! Register Now for our 27th International Sandplay Congress from August 18-22 in the Netherlands, Egmond aan Zee (35 min. from Amsterdam airport). Organized by the Nederlandse Vereniging voor Sandplay Therapie (NVST).

Following this ISST international congress in the Netherlands, the IAAP international congress will take place in Zurich, Switzerland from August 25 - 29.

A unique opportunity to visit both events !

Sandplay therapy, like Jung's emphasis on dreams and active imagination, provides a means of communication beyond words, the images created in the sandtray are considered a language of the unconscious, offering insights that verbal expression might not capture.

The International Society for Sandplay Therapy (ISST) actively promotes the study of Jungian theory, together with a strong understanding of Jungian symbolism and archetypal pattern.

Be inspired by sandplay therapists from 25 different countries who will share their knowledge and experiences with you. This unprecedented gathering of so many diverse cultures is a unique opportunity during these times of Changing Horizons.

Virtual Participation:

If you can't travel or simply prefer to join us remotely, all keynote and selected other presentations will be livestreamed to view conveniently from your own home.

And that's not all – all other workshop will be recorded and will be accessible online for a full 3 months after the conference, so you can learn at your own pace.

Experienced and new students worldwide are welcome. Share this chance for a special and unique introduction to our field of sandplay therapy with those you think would appreciate it.

Time is running out! Take advantage of our attractive early bird discount on your participation in our inspiring conference, valid until May 5th.
